

SATURDAY, JULY 30. 1743.

Rome, July 13.

Cardinal Borghese, Protector of Germany, receiv'd on the 10th the Compliments of all the Friends of the House of Austria, on account of its being the Feast of St. Amelia, and the Name-day of the Empress Dowager; in the Evening there were Illuminations at the Palace of his Eminence, of Thun, and of Baron Scarlati. The Pope has promoted to the Rank of Serjeant-General, Count Bartholomew Oddi, in Consideration of his great Age and Infirmities; and has given the Command of his only Regiment of Guards to Count Lewis Manfroni Pichi, who was in the Queen of Hungary's Service, and commanded the Regiment Caraffa.

Prague, July 20. On Wednesday last 300 Recruits marched from hence for our Armies in the Empire; of these about 20 are Deserters, and make this long March on Irons. The Governor of Egra has been at last in the Humour to surrender, without requiring any other Condition than this, that neither he nor his Garrison should be sent into Hungary. But as he has thought fit to hold out contrary to all the Rules of War, and without the least Hopes of Relief, our Generals do not think themselves obliged to shew more Regard for his Garrison than he has done, and therefore insist on his yielding at Discretion; and then, if he has his Deserts, he will be sent either to Essek or Temeswar, on Account of the excessive, and, at the same time, needless Hardships, to which he has exposed the Inhabitants. In the mean time, General Ogilby has sent his Aid-du-Camp to the Count de Kollowrath, who commands the Blockade before Egra, with his Instructions upon that Head. The Count de Paradis, one of our State-Prisoners, was this Day carried before the Commissioners, and arraigned for Treasonable Practices.

From the Austrian Camp before Egra, July 21. Colonel Lamon and the Major of the Place, went Yesterday to the Head Quarters of the Count de Kollowrath, and made him some Proposals in the Name of the Governor of Egra, for the Surrender of the City. They were somewhat of the highest; the Governor asked no less than Leave to march out of the Town with all the Honours of War, two Mortars, four Cannons, seven Covered Waggon, with some other Marks of Distinction, and a free Passage into France. Some Months ago, said his Excellency, I cannot tell but I might have taken some Time to have considered of these Propositions, but at present you may tell the Governor, that I can think of no other Articles than surrendering at Discretion. We don't know whether the Colonel and his Companion expected this Answer, but we thought they look'd a little dull, in their Return thro' our Camp.

Manheim, July 26. Our Serene Elector sent Yesterday Baron Otten to compliment Prince Charles of Lorraine, and to enquire after his Health; and this Morning his Royal Highness has sent a General Officer hither to compliment the Austrian Troops, where-ever they march, with Provision and Forage, at moderate Prices, in pursuance of which, vast Quantities of Corn and Straw have been sent to Bretten, where there are at present 14,000 Austrians, and where a great many more are hourly expected. There are also some Regiments at Pfortzheim, and some in the Neighbourhood of Rastadt; which Troops, it is thought, are about to march towards the Brisgaw and the Higher Palatinate. The French Troops, when they marched off, did not demolish the Works they had raised at Ladenbourg, tho' they caused all the Bridges to be broke down behind them, and took every other Precaution, in order to prevent a Pursuit. The Peasants were obliged to furnish them with Provisions, as well as with Horses and Carriages; which they did, however, with extreme ill Will, on account of the ill Usage they had formerly met with.

Paris, August 1. The following is an exact Copy of what M. Amelot, by Order of his most Christian Majesty, declared to all the Foreign Ministers residing here. The King has commanded his Armies to retire out of Germany, and to repossess the Rhine; but, at the same time, has commanded others to assemble on the Meuse, and on the Moselle. These Troops have no Orders to commit any Hostilities, unless they are attacked; and in that Case, they are to defend themselves with all imaginable Vigour. At present, the King, my Master, regards the War as made solely against him; and his Majesty, consequently, will regard, and even treat, as direct Enemies, such as shall in any manner act against his Armies.

AMERICA.

Boston, June 13.

In the House of Representatives, June 2, 1743.

Whereas it appears to this Court, that from the Year 1712, to the Year 1742, it has been the uninterrupted Practice of the Executive Courts within this Province in chancering Penalties upon all Bonds and Mortgages, the Condition of which has been the Payment of Bills of Credit, or the Payment of Bills of Credit, or lawful Money, to make up Judgment for the nominal Sum expressed in the Condition of such Bonds and Mortgages, with the Addition of Interest due thereon; and Executions awarded on said Judgments have been levied by the Sheriff for the Value of the nominal Sum in Bills of Credit of the old Tenor, and said Sums in said Bills have been continually accepted by the Creditor in Satisfaction of his Debt.

And whereas it further appears, that the Intent and Expectation of those Persons who have from time to time borrowed and lent any Sum or Sums of Bills of Credit on penal Bonds and Mortgages (except where the Value of the Bills of Credit has been fix'd and ascertain'd) has been to pay and be paid the same nominal Sum in Bills of Credit again, and to run the Risque of their rising or falling in Value. And the aforesaid Practice of the Courts, and the said Intent and Expectation of the Parties, have had an Influence upon all Trade and Dealing throughout the Province:

And whereas (the aforesaid Practice of the Executive Courts in making up Judgments on such Bonds and Mortgages being known to be establish'd, as aforesaid) this Court did, in and by two several Acts made and pass'd in the 15th and 16th Years of his present Majesty, the first of which is intitled, 'An Act for supplying the Treasury with the Sum of 15,000 Pounds, &c.' and the other, 'An Act for supplying the Treasury with the Sum of 12,000 Pounds, &c.' enact and declare, 'That any Debt contracted before the 31st Day of October, 1741, which might have been paid and discharged by Province Bills of the old Tenor, and also any Debt contracted between the said 31st of October, 1741, and the 1st of April, 1742, where the contracting Parties have not expressly otherwise agreed, may be discharge'd by Bills by the said Acts emitted, in Proportion of One to Four.'

And whereas the Judges of some of the Inferior Courts of Common Pleas, and of his Majesty's Superior Court of Judicature, have, of late, in making up Judgments for Debts upon such Bonds and Mortgages, made an Allowance to the Creditor for the depreciating of the Bills of Credit mentioned in the Condition or Proviso of such Bonds or Mortgages, from the Value they were of at the time of contracting the Debt, contrary to the common Construction of such Bonds and Mortgages, and Course of Judicial Proceedings, as aforesaid.

And whereas it appears that the Alteration thus made by the Courts of Judicature, in their Practice in chancering the Forfeitures of Bonds and Mortgages conditioned, as aforesaid, and their Departure from that which they have heretofore judged to be the most equal Rule for chancering the just Debt and Damage upon such Bonds and Mortgages will, if pursued, be attended with manifest Injustice and Oppression.

Therefore Resolved, That it be and hereby is recommended to the Justices of his Majesty's Superior Court of Judicature, and they are hereby enabled and empowered at their next Term in the respective Counties, to re-consider such Judgments as they have already given for Debts due upon Bonds and Mortgages, conditioned as aforesaid, since the second Tuesday of August last, and Execution on all such Judgments is staid in the mean Time; and it is further recommended to the Justices of the several Courts aforesaid, to govern themselves in their future chancering of the Penalties of all such Bonds and Mortgages enter'd into and made before the last Day of October, 1741, by the Intent of the Parties, according to the Construction thereof, which has been heretofore settled and establish'd in the Superior Court, as well as in the Inferior Courts within this Province.

Sent up for Concurrence.

THO. CUSHING, Speaker.

In Council June 8th, 1743. Read and concurr'd.

J. WILLARD, Secr.

Consented to,

W. SHIRLEY.

The most Delightful Fragrant TINCTURE for the Breath, Teeth and Gums.

AT once using makes the BREATH
most charmingly fine, sweet, and pleasant, the Teeth perfectly white, clean and beautiful, and is the most certain Cure for the SCURVY in the Gums in the World.

It infallibly preserves the Breath, Teeth and Gums in their utmost Beauty and Perfection, if they are no Ways disordered;
and if they are, immediately rectifies all their Defects; for the same Minute it is used it makes the most offensive Breath smell incomparably fine and charming, and in a short Time so effectually cures, that a disagreeable Breath will not return.

It instantly makes the blackest and most foul Teeth extensively white and delicately beautiful; infallibly preserves them from decaying, and those a little decay'd from becoming worse; absolutely cures the Scurvy in the Gums, be it ever so inveterate, causing the Flesh to grow up to the Teeth again, when almost eaten quite away, and assuredly fastens the Teeth to Admiration. It is to be used but a few Drops at a Time, is exceeding pleasant; and leaves a very grateful and delectable Flavour in the Mouth.

In a Word, for most delightfully performing, and quickly curing an ill-scented Breath, for immediately making the blackest Teeth most excellently white, certainly fastening them when loose, effectually preserving them from rotting, and decaying, and infallibly curing the Scurvy in the Gums, it has not its Equal in the Universe, as all the Quality and principal Gentry, who use it acknowledge.

It is to be had only at Mr. Radford's Toyshop, at the Red and Crown against St. Clement's Church-yard in the Strand, at 3 s. 6d. a Bottle, with Directions.

WHICH at once infallibly cures all

INFLAMMATION, BLOODSHOT, SORENESS and WA-TERS of the EYES, Distensions of sharp Humours, Dimness of Sight, Specks, Films, or beginning Cataracts, and that after all other Means have fail'd, and without causing the least Trouble or Uneasiness in using.

It directly heals and cures all Manner of Soreness of the Eyes in Children or grown Persons, tho' of many Years standing, be it either of the dry, itching and smarting Kind, or moist, rheumy or watering, and whether proceeding from the Evil, or any other Distemper.

It effectually takes away all Specks, Films, or incipient Cataracts to Admiration, as also all Flies or Gnats, that seem to swim before the Sight; it wonderfully strengthens the Optick Nerves, comforts the Eyes, immediately removes all Dazzling and Dimness, clearing the Sight, and infallibly preserving it strong and good to exceeding old Age.

Hundreds who were so very dim-sighted for some Years
as scarcely able to distinguish any thing, and imagin'd themselves to be the Occasion, have been perfectly and almost instantly cured by it, so as to read the smallest Print without Spectacles; and for Ophthalmies, or Sore, Bloodshot, or Rheu-my Eyes, no Medicine upon Earth can come near it. Thousands of Men, Women, and Children, have been cured by it of the very worst Sort, almost upon the Spot, and Blindness been prevented in abundance who had tried all other Remedies in vain, inasmuch that it may be almost accounted a miraculous Remedy.

No Family ought to be without it, nor ever will, after they have had but one Day's Experience of its admirable Efficacy.

It is to be had only, by the Author's Appointment, at the
